This document is hyperlinked for easy navigation in Adobe Reader.

The colored boxes in each protocol tree are linked to the respective pages with further information on the specific procedure, medication, or protocol page. There is an active link when hovering over the text within the colored box and the cursor changes from a bar to a pointer finger. Left clicking will jump to the linked page containing further information. Right clicking and selecting “Previous View” will return you to the page you started at.

This document is also bookmarked with respect to the individual sections. Use the book mark feature of Adobe Acrobat to display pre-designated bookmarks and click on each to jump between sections.
